“TODAY THE BUSINESS OF WISCONSIN IS BUSINESS”

Madison...Referencing an iconic quote from Calvin Coolidge, Rep. Robin Vos (R-Rochester) stated, “Today the business of Wisconsin is business.”

Rep. Vos was sworn into office for his 4th term as Republicans regained control of the Wisconsin Assembly. Rep. Vos will serve as co-chair of the budget-writing Joint Finance Committee along with Senator Alberta Darling (R-River Hills).

“We need to decrease spending, establish a more open business environment, create jobs and lower the tax burden.” Rep. Vos said. “I believe our Republican members will seize this great opportunity to make Wisconsin better and its economy stronger.”

Rep. Vos is proud to serve the 63rd district with one of the largest freshman class of representatives in recent Wisconsin history. The GOP has 25 new members, 12 of them are business owners.

“As we craft a smart spending plan for the state, taxpayers should be happy that we have business-minded lawmakers who will find ways to get more jobs to our state.” Rep. Vos stated.

The Republican-controlled legislature will get down to business immediately with a special session focusing on the economy, reduction in regulations and job creation.
